THE CHALLENGE

You're already juggling bids, subs, and a city permitting process that doesn't move fast. Tracking down permit status, digging up project history, or figuring out whether a sub has actually worked in Chicago — that takes phone calls, emails, and hours you don't have. There's a faster way.

WHAT YOU CAN DO WITH CHICAGO CITYSCAPE

1

Track a proposed project

Look up any Chicago address and see where it stands in the city's review pipeline — zoning applications, plan review, permit approvals, and more. Know before you walk in the door.

2

See pending and active permits at any address

Type in an address and instantly pull up every building permit on file — contractor of record, scope of work, issue date, and current status. No BACP calls, no 311 wait times.

3

Research a subcontractor's permit history

Before you bring on a new sub, look them up by name. See every permit they've pulled in Chicago — what they've built, how recently they've worked, and the types of projects they've completed.

WHY CONTRACTORS USE IT

Real city data

Sourced directly from Chicago's permit and zoning systems — not stale PDFs or manual spreadsheets.

Answers in seconds

Skip the hold music. Pull up permit history, project status, or sub records before your next site visit.

Searchable by address or name

Look up any property or contractor in Cook County — whether it's a job you're bidding or a sub you're vetting.
